

Kerry's Story My Fight with Macular Degeneration

Above is a chart showing graphically my fight against this insidious disease. AMD is the leading cause of blindness in people over 50.

The human body is an intricate machine. The older we get, the more parts wear out. Doctors are the mechanics that we go to when our machines need repair. Doctors are like mechanics in that some are better than others. A lot of things happen by accident. That is how eye injections of Avastin came about.

Prior to eye injections there was no treatment for AMD. After I was diagnosed, I started on 6 week injections. My left eye was damaged due to lack of treatment. The eye is the only organ that can not regenerate itself.

My right eye went "wet" and my vision went to 20/100 and remained there for the next year and then I took an antioxidant for my back pain and in two weeks my vision improved to 20/50. Results matter! These results are obviously not guaranteed. All bodies don't react the same. To restore one's vision is sure worth a try!

There are two ways of learning. Wisdom and experience. Wisdom is learning through the experience of others. Experience is the hard way to learn because it gives the test before it gives the lesson.
